RevitalAIze was built on one clear conviction: one system is not enough. Ancient star mathematics reveals the timing of your life. Western psychological astrology reveals the truth of your soul. United into a single reading, they produce an accuracy and depth that is genuinely unparalleled. Together, they are complete. Because you deserve both.

Dear Marc- Andre Tremblay,

The Scorpio Sun and Pisces Moon are both water - both permeable to what others cannot see. This chart receives the world at a depth that most configurations never reach, which is both a gift and a weight.

The stars were positioned with exact precision at the moment of your first breath on 1974-10-26. That precise configuration - Scorpio Sun, Pisces Moon, Leo Rising - has never existed before and will never exist again.
That map has been waiting. It is inside these pages.

Turn to page 2 first if you need immediate support.
Everything else follows from there.

WHAT THE PRESENT MOMENT ACTUALLY CONTAINS

You are not at the mercy of what is happening to you. You are about to understand exactly what is happening - and precisely what to do about it.

As of November 09, 2026, these are the live celestial forces acting on your life:

Your South Node Life Season (completing in February 2027) is the master cycle - it sets the overall tone, the primary resistance, and the specific lessons your soul is working through. Every repeating pattern, every area of inexplicable difficulty, every moment where effort does not produce proportional results - this is why. Not character. Not fate. Timing.

Your Active Mercury Sub-Cycle (until February 2027) is the immediate arena - the specific classroom within this season, the precise area where the South Node energy is most concentrated in your daily experience right now.

DOORWAY OPEN NOW: Sun is moving in harmony with your Moon. This is a real grace window - effort in the realm of Moon receives unusual support. Act in this window.

ACTIVE FRICTION NOW: Venus is in tension with your Saturn. This resistance is real and present. Engage it consciously rather than avoid it. Friction met with awareness produces your most significant breakthroughs.

Your cosmic energy map: highest energy signs - Leo (38/56), Sagittarius (37/56), Cancer (35/56). Planets transiting these signs deliver their gifts with ease. Lowest energy signs: Capricorn (22/56), Scorpio (24/56), Virgo (25/56) - the weekly protocol is your antidote when planets move through these.

YOUR COSMIC ENERGY MAP - which areas of your chart carry the most activated energy right now:

Leo (House 2) - cosmic strength score 38/56. Make the financial move you have been postponing - money decisions carry precision and ease.

Sagittarius (House 6) - cosmic strength score 37/56. Establish the health and work habit - consistency begun now compounds powerfully.

Cancer (House 1) - cosmic strength score 35/56. Step into visibility today - your physical presence and first impression carry unusual power right now.

Areas requiring more intentional energy investment:

Capricorn (House 7) - cosmic strength score 22/56. Your partnerships and significant one-on-one bonds need active engagement. Your Tuesday practice is the most direct way to restore flow here.

Scorpio (House 5) - cosmic strength score 24/56. Your creative expression and joy require deliberate nurturing this season. Your Tuesday practice is the most direct way to restore flow here.

Gemini (House 12) - cosmic strength score 25/56. Your inner spiritual life and solitude need protected, sacred space. Your Tuesday practice is the most direct way to restore flow here.

YOUR PLANETARY SEASON: RUNNING IN THE BACKGROUND

Every date in your 90-day calendar is shaped by your current planetary season. Understanding that season is what transforms timing from information into power.

You are currently in your South Node Life Season, which completes in February 2027. This season is the invisible architecture behind every pattern you have been living - the repeating experiences, the specific resistance, the windows of unexpected ease. It has a name. It has a curriculum. It has an end date. And it has a counter-move.

The South Node season shapes the quality of every day in this Navigator. Your best windows are best partly because of what this season amplifies. Your friction dates carry the specific weight of what this season teaches. Knowing the season is not separate from using this calendar - it is what makes this calendar make sense.

Your Cosmic Life Season Protocol names this season in full: what it teaches, what triggers its strongest pressure, what it cannot withstand, the energy force assigned to you for this exact cycle, the obstacles it creates by name, and the precise protocol for moving through it. It is the companion reading to this Navigator - the why behind every when.

> This season completes in February 2027. Everything in this Navigator is calibrated to that timeline. Your Life Season Protocol is available at revitalaize.com/life-season for $33.

YOUR NEXT 90 DAYS: CAREER AND PURPOSE

The professional identity you built before this period is loosening its grip - not because it failed, but because it has finished its work. What you are inside right now is a release cycle, and release cycles do not feel like preparation. They feel like loss. The drive to prove, to perform, to demonstrate capability through visible output has gone quieter than you are comfortable with. This is not a malfunction. This is the specific work of this season.

The mind is your primary instrument right now. The sub-period you are moving through amplifies everything that travels through thought, language, writing, and precise articulation. This is the window for depth over breadth - one clear direction, committed to fully, communicated with precision, rather than several directions held simultaneously at half-force. Contracts, written proposals, teaching, consulting, any work that requires your mind to operate at its sharpest edge - these are supported. Attempting to hold your former professional identity in place through sheer will is not.

What to avoid: forcing visible results before the underground work has completed. The past mastery is real and available, but the urgency to prove it right now will produce more noise than movement.

Face south when you do your career work. Tuesday is the day this chart concentrates professional clarity most reliably - use it for every decision, communication, and strategic move that matters.

What is building beneath the surface is real: the simplification this season is forcing you through is clearing the ground for work that is genuinely yours, not performed for a role that no longer fits.

SAMPLE

YOUR NEXT 90 DAYS: WEALTH AND FINANCE

The current season is not a building season for wealth - it is a releasing season, and the distinction matters enormously. The planetary force governing this window specializes in loosening your grip on financial beliefs that no longer belong to you, particularly inherited ones: the idea that money requires a certain kind of striving, that security looks a specific way, that financial worth is measured by output volume rather than by the singular depth of what you offer. The Mercury sub-period running through this same window adds its own pressure - your financial decisions are entangled with mental overload right now, with the urge to analyze every option until the right path disappears into the analysis itself. The breakthrough this season specifically requires is not more information. It is simplification. One clear financial intention, executed with discipline, outperforms five simultaneously pursued strategies in this window. Early in this 90-day period, resist the pull toward complex financial restructuring. Mid-period, any conversation - a negotiation, a proposal, a request for what you are worth - that you have been postponing becomes the right conversation to initiate. As this period closes, face East on a Sunday and name, plainly and without ceremony, what you are releasing: the financial belief inherited from someone else's fear that has been masquerading as your own.

What is accumulating underneath this testing is real. The simplification this season forces is not subtraction - it is the clearing of ground. The seasons ahead carry genuine financial opening specific to this architecture, and they will find you standing on cleared ground rather than buried under strategies that never fit. The depth you bring to everything you do is not incidental to your earning capacity. It is the source of it. What only you can retrieve from where you go is precisely what the world will pay for. Trust that the diving is the work, and the work has always had a return.

YOUR NEXT 90 DAYS: LOVE AND PARTNERSHIP

The relational field around you right now is not empty. It is completing. There is a difference, and that difference is everything.

The season you are moving through pulls old patterns up from underground - not to punish you, but because something unfinished in the way you have loved is ready to close. You have loved by going all the way in. You have offered depth, absorption, transformation - the full force of what you carry - and then waited, quietly, to see whether anyone would come that far down to find you in return. Too often, they did not. Not because you chose badly, but because your outer warmth read as self-sufficiency. The people who could have met you in the deep assumed you did not need them there.

That pattern is what this window is dismantling. Not gently, and not quickly - but permanently.

SAMPLE

What is genuinely available to you right now is acceptance without the requirement of being fully understood first. The need to arrive already whole, already processed, already luminous - that requirement is loosening. Something in you is learning to be found mid-descent, not only after you have returned with the answer.

What is getting better, slowly: your ability to let someone witness the going-down itself.

Do not pursue new intensity for its own sake right now. What creates unnecessary pain is reaching for merger before you have finished the completion this season is asking of you.

Your weekly practice belongs to Saturday. Face West. Breathe before you speak. What you are building in those private moments is the capacity to be loved at depth - not just admired from the surface.

YOUR NEXT 90 DAYS: HEALTH AND VITALITY

The body is not failing. It is releasing. What you are feeling right now - the pull toward stillness, the lower tide of energy, the old tensions surfacing in places you thought you had resolved - this is not deterioration. This is a body doing precisely what this season asks of it: letting go of what has been stored.

The current season places your physical system in a deep detoxification arc. The nervous system, which in your architecture carries the particular load of processing other people's emotional states before your own, is asking for genuine restoration - not the performance of rest, not a single night's sleep followed by full output the next morning, but sustained, unhurried unwinding. The body right now is releasing stored patterns. Some of these patterns have been held for years. The surfacing of old tension, old fatigue, old grief through the physical body is not regression. It is completion.

SAMPLE

What requires specific attention: the digestive system and the quality of sleep. These two are the primary messengers right now. If your digestion feels sluggish or your sleep feels deep but not replenishing, you are receiving accurate information about where the release is occurring. Trust it rather than override it.

The practice that unlocks this season for the body is simple: on Thursday, face north-east, and do one genuinely restorative act - not productive, not disciplined, not effortful. A slow walk. Warm water. Silence without agenda. The body already knows how to heal. It is waiting for permission to do it without an audience.

The improvement is already beginning. The body is lighter than it was ninety days ago. It will be lighter still.

SAMPLE

YOUR 90-DAY LIBERATION ROADMAP

Ninety days of sincere, consistent practice produces more visible change than years of waiting. Here is the specific roadmap for your chart. The calendar that follows translates this arc into dates.

The first thing that clears is not a problem. It is a posture.

For years - and you will recognize this the moment you feel it begin to loosen - you have been holding yourself in a particular shape in the world. The shape of the one who already knows. The one who arrived with the answer intact, the one whose luminous outer warmth signals that the interior is handled, organized, resolved. That shape has been exhausting in ways you have rarely admitted even to yourself, because admitting the exhaustion would require admitting the shape, and the shape felt like protection. In these first thirty days, that posture begins to release - not because something breaks, but because the season is simply no longer asking you to hold it. You will notice it first as a kind of unexpected quietness in social situations where you used to perform certainty. A moment before you speak where you notice you do not have to arrive with the full weight of your authority behind every word. The emotional body - that vast, permeable, oceanic interior - begins to settle back into itself rather than extending outward to fill every room it enters. What you will feel in this phase is not collapse. It is relief, arriving in a form so unfamiliar it briefly resembles loss.

Then somewhere around the fifth week, something shifts in how you move toward what you want. The drive that has historically rushed forward - urgent, beautifully intentioned, but sometimes arriving before the ground was ready - begins to find a different rhythm. It slows not into paralysis but into precision. You start to notice which conversations you have been entering out of habit rather than genuine desire, which commitments carry the residue of who you were rather than the weight of who you are becoming. The shift looks quiet from the outside. From the inside it feels like the first time in a long while that you are choosing rather than propelling.

Phase 3 - The Stabilization

By Day 90, the choosing has become constitutional. What began as deliberate pause has quietly wired itself into how you recognize yourself. You no longer need to remind yourself to slow down before speaking, before committing, before extending your energy outward - the discernment has moved from practice into character. You carry a new kind of authority now, not louder than before but more accurately placed. The conversations you enter carry your actual signature. The projects you hold carry your actual weight. You have stopped apologizing internally for what you no longer reach toward, and started trusting that the ground you have cleared is not empty but prepared. Mercury's precision has become your native language, not a tool you pick up but a voice you recognize as yours. What stabilizes is not certainty about everything ahead, but certainty about who is walking toward it.

"I no longer move to prove I am alive - I move because I know exactly where I am going."

What you have built in these ninety days is not a destination but a threshold, and the door is already open. The clarity you earned privately will now begin to show up in rooms, in offers, in people who recognize something in you before you have spoken a word. Opportunities that once would have scattered your attention will instead feel like confirmation. The work ahead will ask more of you, but you will find that more is exactly what you now have. Something that has been quietly gathering is ready to arrive.

YOUR 90-DAY OPERATIONAL CALENDAR: WHEN TO MOVE AND WHEN TO WAIT

Timing is strategy. The same action at the right moment produces a different outcome than the same action at the wrong one. Your Roadmap describes the arc of this 90-day window. This calendar translates that arc into specific weeks and days. The Activity Guide converts peak days into exact decisions.

This calendar is built from your exact birth data and today's live sky. It tells you when to initiate, when to sign, when to move, when to hold, and when to rest - specifically for your next 90 days.

Your Personal Star Calendar - calculated from your birth star (Rooted Growth), your Ascendant (Leo), and the live sky. The quality of each day reflects the intersection of the universal sky with YOUR specific birth signature. No two people share this calendar.

WHAT THIS 90-DAY WINDOW IS ASKING OF YOU

This 90-day window is a season of consolidation. South Node seasons do not reward new acquisition - they reward mastery of what you already have. Your career channel is most steady on Tuesdays. Your wealth channel stabilises on Sundays. What you release in this window creates the space your next season needs. The calendar ahead maps the clearing days carefully. Use them.

No peak days in this 90-day window - all days are ordinary ground. Life still works on ordinary days.

10 YOUR PERSONAL DAILY COMPASS

How to move through any day with intention - for every person, every morning.

WHAT THIS SECTION IS AND HOW TO USE IT

Your Operational Calendar tells you the quality of each day - peak, favourable, caution, rest. But knowing it is a caution day does not tell you what to actually do with it. That is what this compass does. For every day quality, it gives you four specific answers: what to act on, what to leave alone, how to use your body, and how to use your mind. One row. One complete answer. Then go live your day.

Step 1 - Check your Calendar

Open to your Operational Calendar and find today's date. Read the day quality: Peak, Favourable, Ordinary, Caution, Review, or Rest.

Step 2 - Find that row here

Come to this page and locate the matching row. Five minutes. This is your personal operating manual for the day ahead.

Step 3 - Set your day

Read DO THIS and AVOID. Read PHYSICAL and MENTAL. These four answers replace the guesswork of every morning.

Most people know what to do on their good days. This compass is most valuable on caution and rest days - the days that usually produce anxiety or costly decisions. This section turns those days into deliberate, productive ones.

PEAK DAY

DO THIS

Sign. Call. Commit. Begin. Move on the important thing today - do not let this window pass on routine tasks.

AVOID

Passive waiting. Admin. Low-stakes tasks. Wasting the window on anything that could wait.

PHYSICAL

Push hard. Compete. Peak performance. Test your limits. Schedule your most demanding work here. Blue collar: take on the harder job today.

MENTAL & MIND

Mind is at its sharpest. Make decisions. Think strategically. Engage fully. Your clarity is highest - use it for what matters most.

FAVOURABLE

DO THIS

Steady forward progress. Quality conversations. Decisions that have been mulling can now be made. Consistent effort compounds.

AVOID

High-stakes irreversible commitments - save those for peak days. Impulsive major moves.

PHYSICAL

Good training session. Skill work. Technique over intensity. Steady effort that builds.

MENTAL & MIND

Good focus available. Study, plan, write. Read something worth reading. The mind absorbs well and retains what it takes in today.

ANCIENT STARS. AI REVITALIZED. YOUR PERSONAL COSMIC ROADMAP.

Marc- Andre Tremblay | Sun: Scorpio Moon: Pisces Rising: Leo

ORDINARY

DO THIS

Everything that keeps life running. Maintenance. Showing up. The unglamorous consistency that compounds quietly.

AVOID

Expecting dramatic results. Forcing outcomes. Comparing this day to your peak days.

PHYSICAL

Maintenance movement. Keep the habit alive. Not a day to push hard, not a day to quit.

MENTAL & MIND

Steady background thinking. Podcasts, light reading, casual problem solving. Let the mind wander usefully without demanding breakthroughs.

CAUTION

DO THIS

Complete what is in progress. Protect what exists. Be more deliberate than usual. If it cannot wait: choose the most reversible option and confirm everything in writing.

AVOID

New starts. Signing anything. Launching. Irreversible moves. Impulsive decisions. Confrontations that can wait.

PHYSICAL

Light movement only. Protect joints and body. No new physical challenges. Blue collar: extra care around tools, machinery, and heights - slow down and check twice.

MENTAL & MIND

Switch off news and noise. Limit screen input. The mind is processing something beneath the surface - give it space rather than more data. A walk, music, or something made with your hands.

REVIEW (RETROGRADE)

DO THIS

Review. Revise. Reconnect with old contacts. Prepare decisions you will act on when retrograde ends. Confirm all existing arrangements explicitly.

AVOID

Launching. Signing new agreements. Committing to new things. Moving house. Assuming anything is understood without checking.

PHYSICAL

Recovery and technique review. Rest is productive. What you restore now funds the weeks ahead. Blue collar: verify equipment and procedures before starting any physical work today.

MENTAL & MIND

Revisit old ideas and plans - this period often resurfaces what was useful and overlooked. Journal slowly. Integrate what you already have rather than consuming new information.

SAMPLE

REST DAY

DO THIS

Sleep. Journal. Meditate. Absorb. The day is asking you to receive, not produce. Inner work on rest days surfaces the clearest clarity.

AVOID

Forcing output. Pushing through depletion.
Making major decisions from exhaustion.
Overloading the nervous system with demands.

PHYSICAL

Full rest. Gentle walk. Massage if available. Stretching only. Let the body process and regenerate without placing demands on it.

MENTAL & MIND

Silence before screens. Meditate even briefly. Nature if possible. The mind needs white space to complete its background processing - give it that today.

YOUR 90-DAY ACTIVITY GUIDE

Every date below was calculated from your birth data mapped against the live sky. No two people share this calendar.

HOW TO READ THIS GUIDE

- Find your activity

Each section below contains specific activities across Career, Wealth, Love, Health, Property, and more. Find what you are facing in the next 90 days and read the rows.

- Rising days

Your chart is actively amplifying this specific action. Birth star energy, lunar strength, and this activity's ruling planetary signature all align. Initiate, commit, and begin on these days. These are your highest-probability windows.

- Steady windows

Activity-resonance days unique to this action - drawn from this activity's secondary planetary energy intersected with your chart's cosmic strength map. No two activities in this guide share the same steady windows.

- Chart cautions

Conditions create resistance on these days - a mix of hard cautions (reschedule if at all possible) and softer friction days (proceed slowly, confirm everything in writing). Your chart is working against the action.

- Every other day

Neutral ground. Your chart is neither helping nor hindering. These days belong entirely to your own effort and preparation - use them freely.

Your South Node season context: In this window, the activities that produce the most are the completions - closing loops, releasing obligations that have run their course, and making space for what is genuinely next. The dates below will tell you when to let go as precisely as they tell you when to begin.

Relationship house timing. Dates for connection, commitment, and important conversations.

Your South Node season brings completion to relational patterns. Some connections are ready to deepen; others are ready to release. These windows clarify which is which.

YOUR CONNECTION COMPASS - THE PLACES, PEOPLE AND ENERGY THAT RECOGNISE YOU

This section is for every kind of connection - friendship, belonging, romantic potential. Your chart encodes where your energy lands most naturally. These are not generic suggestions. They are specific to how you project, what you value, and who you draw toward you.

WHERE YOUR ENERGY SHINES (Leo Rising)

- theatre and performance venues
- social events with visibility
- creative workshops
- leadership circles

HOW YOU LOVE (Scorpio Venus)

You connect through depth that most people do not reach. Settings where genuine psychological honesty is possible - retreats, small intimate groups, real conversations - are where your magnetism lands.

WHO FINDS YOU (Capricorn in your 7th house)

Someone who means what they say across months and years, not just across evenings. Structurally solid, quietly ambitious, deeply respectful of genuine effort. Find them in professional settings, long-standing institutions, communities built around earned trust.

Direction of pull: Face or travel West. Venues in that direction from where you are tend to produce the better encounter - this is not coincidence, it is the alignment of your personal energy field with the directions of maximum resonance.

THE NEXT 90 DAYS: WHAT THE STARS SHOW COMING

The sky over the next 90 days is not a mystery for your chart. Here is what Amaya has observed.

Doorways Opening

The sky right now is sending a current of ease directly into the parts of you that have been bracing. The trine between today's sky and your emotional world, and between today's sky and the place in your chart where discipline lives, means that for the next several weeks, the tension between feeling everything and structuring anything softens. What opens in this window is not loud. It arrives the way your season delivers everything - through release, through what you stop insisting on. A conversation you have been postponing. A piece of writing, a teaching, something that needs to be spoken rather than held. The door opens the moment you open your mouth.

Resistances Arriving

The specific friction arriving in this window is the pull toward silence precisely when the sky is asking for speech. Your active sub-period is governed by the force of communication, and the sky is supporting it - which means the resistance shows up internally, as the familiar loop of over-analysis convincing you the words are not ready, the idea not fully formed, the moment not quite right. That loop is the leak. The other resistance is subtler: in the domain of deep connection, something you have been holding may be asking to be set down. The season's instruction is the open hand. The closed fist will feel safer. It will also keep you exactly where you are.

How to Navigate Both

SAMPLE

Speak before you are certain. Write before the analysis finishes its argument. The 90-day window you are inside rewards the communication that moves, not the communication that is perfected in private. Face north-west when you sit down to write or speak what matters. Wear or place something in pearl grey or antique gold in your space on Tuesdays - not as ritual for ritual's sake, but as a physical act of alignment with the force that governs this season. The sky is not asking you to perform. It is asking you to transmit what you have already been down to find.

The doorways and resistances described above map directly to your 90-Day Calendar. Your peak and favourable weeks are the exact windows when doorways are most open - and your caution weeks are when the resistances arrive with the most force. See your Roadmap for the full arc, and your Calendar for the precise dates.
